LAWYERS DINE AND HEAR "UNCLE JOE"

Attorney General Pollard, '93, of Virginia, President Stockton, and Others Also Speak

SONGS "HITTING" GUESTS A FEATURE

"Best Law School in Country," Declares President Stockton; "Play Part in Life," Advises Representative Cannon; Columbian-George Washington Association Elects

Representative Joseph G. Cannon, Attorney General John Garland Pollard, '93, of Virginia, and President Charles Herbert Stockton were the principal speakers at the fourth annual Law School dinner held Friday at Rauscher's. Students, alumni and faculty, 250 of them, attended and sang original songs and gave yells between courses. The speakers were given ovations lasting several minutes.

"You will have to play your part in preserving civilization now threatened by world war," "Uncle Joe" Cannon told the students. "More and more class legislation is being passed now, and you will be up against a new order of things." He also related experiences of his earlier days when starting out in law. "I am eighty years old, and not afraid to die," he said, "but I am not going to if I can help it. I want to see the solution of the problems of today."

Attorney General Pollard, a graduate of our Law School in 1893, was introduced by Dean Fraser, toastmaster, as "the next governor of Virginia."

"Law has increased its scope wonderfully since my graduation," he said. He told numerous anecdotes about the "old darkies" of the South.

"We have a law school the peer of any in the country," declared President Stockton. He also urged preparedness for this country. "The next war will be one between aerial crafts," he said. "We are not prepared, and I am pessimistic enough to believe we never will be. We cannot tell when the hair-trigger of war will be touched."

Prof. E. Otto Schreiber, jr., speaking for the faculty, commended the "progressive tendency" of legal decisions and statutes of today.

The progress of the Law School in registration, courses and activities was related by Alexander C. Robeson, speaking for the seniors. Donald McKnew, football manager, told of athletic plans for next year.

A booklet of songs and parodies, "hitting" guests and faculty, was given to each person, and the singing of these was a feature.

In addition to the speakers, the members of the law committee of the board of trustees, John Bell Larner, '79; Henry B. F. Macfarland, J. Holdsworth Gordon, '69, and William Bruce King, '80, were guests.

The dinner committee consisted of: J. Lewis Parks, jr., of the faculty, chairman; Archibald King, of the faculty; E. Otto Schreiber, jr., of the faculty; Wharton E. Lester, '91; Arlon B. Cushman, '93; William C. Van Vleck, '11; Harry H. Semmes, '16; Homer T. Shaver, '16; Henry B. Floyd, '17; William C. Miller, '17; Thomas R. Manning, '18; Cassius M. Dowell, '18; W. R. Barksdale Stevens, '18.

BEAT CATHOLIC UNIVERSITY IN BIG DEBATE ON IMMIGRATION

G. W. Team Gets 2 to 1 Decision After Proving Literacy Test Unnecessary

George Washington University won from Catholic University in the local collegiate debating event of the year Saturday in McMahon Hall, Catholic University. The decision was two to one in favor of George Washington, upholding the negative of "Resolved, That Immigration to the United States Should be Further Restricted by the Imposition of a Literacy Test."

Our winning team was composed of H. W. Cornell, '17; C. T. Burton Fuller, '18; P. B. Moorehouse, '18, with Max Rhoades, '18, as alternate, all of Law School. Catholic University was represented by Warren Maxwell, '18; Edward P. Somers, '17; Thomas P. O'Connor, '18, with Martin A. Hunt, '17, as alternate.

George Washington won by showing that enforcement of present laws made immigration restriction unnecessary. Prof. Otto E. Schreiber, coach, is largely responsible for the excellent showing made by our intercollegiate teams this year.

BIXLER AND GROESBECK INITIATED INTO PYRAMID HONOR SOCIETY

Herbert P. Ramsey Elected President; Banquet Held Monday Evening

Two juniors were initiated into the Pyramid Honor Society last Monday night at its banquet at the University Club. John S. Bixler, Columbia College, '17, business manager of The Hatchet and last year financial secretary of the Athletic Association, and Bertram Groesbeck, Medical, '17, a letter man in basketball for two years, were the initiates.

Herbert P. Ramsey, editor of The Hatchet last year, was elected president of the society. Leo C. Terry, basketball manager, was selected as vice president. John S. Bixler was made secretary-treasurer, and E. Clarence Rice, Medical, '16, was chosen historian.

Prof. Leslie Cleveland McNemar made a "farewell" speech. Shirley P. Jones, Morris L. Bowers, H. P. Ramsey, and others also spoke.

SENIOR BANQUET

A University senior banquet will be held the evening of Tuesday, June 6, if plans of Herbert P. Ramsey, chairman of the committee, are realized. A canvass is being made of seniors, and if a sufficient number will pledge themselves to attend, the affair will be held.

"DISRAELI" AN ARTISTIC AND FINANCIAL SUCCESS

Sol S. Gluck Stars in Spring Play, Produced for Dramatic Association and the University Hospital; Entire Cast Gives Excellent Performance; Notables Present

"Disraeli," produced by the Dramatic Association at the Belasco on Tuesday evening before an audience of about 800, was an artistic and financial success. Never has the University produced a more brilliant play that was so thoroughly successful.

Sol S. Gluck, playing Disraeli, lead the uniformly excellent cast. His work in the portrayal of the character of the Jewish Prime Minister of England equaled that of many professionals. As Mrs. Travers, the ravishing Russian spy, Miss Inez Ryan gave a finished performance. Miss Edna Dixon was a sweet Clarissa, and Leon A. Tashof, as Charles, in love with Clarissa, scored a hit. As Lady Beauchamp, Miss Gertrude Walter depicted the devoted wife of Disraeli, and Miss Frances Geschickter was the proud Duchess of Glastonbury.

Other characters in Louis N. Parker's four-act play, hinging on the purchase by England of the Suez Canal, were taken by L. E. Pendell, Maurice S. Gluck, Miss Agnes Pendelton, Frederick E. Kunkel, Miss Catherine Greenwood, E. Bain Lightfoot, Walter Stahr, Ernst M. Elkin, Norman C. Stow, William Gilligan, Leon A. Weinberg, Francis Johnston, George Gilleland, Harry Gladstone, and Norman Ames.

Much of the success of the play was due to Henry J. Breslau, who directed, assisted by Mr. Gluck. E. Bain Lightfoot was stage manager, and Leon A. Tashof and Maurice S. Gluck were in charge of properties. Costumes were made and designed by Misses Greenwood, Dixon and Geschickter. M. N. Goldman had charge of the musical program.

"We are assured of financial success," Joseph M. Shaffer, business manager, announced after the performance. Miss Agnes Pendelton was his business assistant. Maxwell A. Ostrow arranged the souvenir program, which was sold by ten of the prettiest girls of the University: Misses Norman Bose, Mable E.

COMMENCEMENT WEEK TO BE BUSY FOR GRADUATING CLASSES

Commencement Exercises, Baccalaureate Sermon, and President's Reception to be Principal Functions

About 260 students will be graduated from the University this year. Plans have practically been completed for the exercises of commencement week.

The baccalaureate sermon will be preached on Sunday, June 4, at 4 o'clock by Rev. Joseph Johnstone Muir at the Temple Baptist Church, 10th and N Sts. Graduates, trustees, members of the faculty and invited guests will assemble at the Medical Building in academic dress at 3:15 P. M. and will start for the church at 3:30.

Commencement exercises of all departments of the University will be held in Memorial Continental Hall, on Wednesday evening, June 7. Justice Wendell Phillips Stafford, a professor in the Law School, will deliver the commencement address. Rev. W. R. Wedderpoon, of the Foundry M. E. Church, will give the invocation. Candidates for degrees will assemble in the south basement of the hall at 7:30 P. M.

President and Mrs. Stockton will give their annual reception to the graduates on Monday, June 5, from 5 to 7, at the Washington Club, 1701 K Street.

TO SHOOT TOMORROW

All men students interested in rifle shooting are invited to go to the Winthrop range with the University Rifle Club tomorrow. The steamer leaves 9th and K Streets S. W. at 9 a. m., and the total cost of the trip will be 25 cents transportation and 15 cents for lunch. Rifles and ammunition will be furnished.

BASEBALL LEAGUE

So many misunderstandings as to time and place of games have prevented the playing of scheduled games that the league, as such, has practically been abandoned.

On April 29 the Columbian College team won an easy game from the Law School. The score was 14 to 4 in the seventh inning, when the game was called to save the Collegians from exhaustion due to running bases.

STUDENT COUNCIL NEXT YEAR NAMED

Students Owing for A. A. Tickets and The Hatchet to Be Given Publicity

TO CENSOR CHERRY TREE NEXT YEAR

Hatchet Editors and Business Manager Named; Want Candidates for Cherry Tree Staff; Make Uniform Class Pin Official for All Departments of the University

Late News.

Friday Morning.—The faculty committee on student activities met late yesterday afternoon in Dean Fraser's office at the Law School and appointed the student council. They also recommended that the names of the students who have failed to pay for athletic tickets or subscriptions to The Hatchet should be sent to the President for action, which probably means that such students will be suspended or expelled. They provided a censorship for the Cherry Tree and approved as official for all departments of the University the uniform class-pin adopted by the Association of Class Presidents.

The student council named consisted of: Columbian College, John S. Bixler, Miss Theodora S. Seibold, George Bell, College of Engineering, William S. James; Teachers College, Elmer Kayser; Graduate School, Leo C. Terry; Medical School, Bertram Groesbeck, Harry W. Leetch; Dental School, M. Q. Cannon; Law School, Rhesa M. Norris, C. M. Dowell; Pharmacy College, Perry M. Johnson; Veterinary College, James B. Patterson; Editors and business managers of the college publications, and managers of athletic teams and other activities were made members of the council ex-officio, without vote. This council will meet at the call of Dean Fraser shortly after examinations to consider plans for next year.

The names of those who have promised to pay for an athletic season ticket or a subscription to The Hatchet and have not will be sent to President Stockton in accordance with section 7 of the faculty committee's constitution, which states: "The President of the University shall have the authority to * * * withhold credits, suspend or expel a student or students who * * * bring discredit upon the University or the student body by failing to properly conduct an activity or meet the obligations incurred and incident thereto."

President Stockton when seen last night said the names would be given fullest publicity in The Hatchet and on the bulletin boards. Fraternities will be given the names of their members who have not paid. He called attention to the circular now being sent to graduates student publications before publication held if financial obligations to the University are not fulfilled.

The motion that all material from any department or college for publication in the Cherry Tree be approved in writing by the member of the faculty committee from that department or college, and the contents of the whole book be approved by the chairman of the subcommittee on student publications before published was carried.

No action was taken as to the staff of the Cherry Tree for next year. Dean Ruediger, chairman of the subcommittee on publications, will make the appointments, and he requests that candidates for editor or business manager hand in their names to him at once.

Editorials

NEXT YEAR

"I think the University is beginning a new era," said one of the deans after witnessing "Disraeli." And it is true. In student activities and scholastic standing, George Washington is fast coming into its own. With the new student council and football next year we can have the best year in the history of the institution. The past year has been marked with innovations and big undertakings, but with the voluntary tax a strongly organized student council in control, next year should be even better. Here's to it!

THE WINTHROP IDEA

The Winthrop idea, worked out by Capt. W. C. Harlee of the Marine Corps, which allows every Washington man to learn to shoot under expert instruction while he is taking a day's outing, is one of the biggest defense measures ever advanced in this country. Men who have never shot, about 150 a day, are qualifying as marksmen, learning to be efficient if their country should need them.

Tomorrow the rifle club will go to the Winthrop range, and every student should accept the invitation to learn to shoot. Incidentally, the rifle team can and should win the intercollegiate championship this year.

The fellow with the biggest title very seldom does the largest amount of work.

Life is just one "snap" course after another for some gentlemen about college.

VETS HOLD MEETING

The May meeting of the Veterinary Medical Association was held last Saturday evening at the Veterinary College. The following papers were presented and discussed: "Cryptorchid, or Ridgling, Operations," by William H. Grubb, '16, and "The Lymphatic System," by Emmet W. Price, '18.

The association plans to bring the year's activities to a close by a special meeting to be held about June 1.

STUDENT COUNCIL NEXT YEAR NAMED

The appointment of D. A. Baer as graduate manager of athletics was ratified.

Hatchet Staff Named

At a meeting of the board of managers of the University Hatchet, Inc., in Prof. Schreiber's office yesterday afternoon, Watson Davis and William S. Hance, jr., present editors, were re-elected for the year 1916-17, and H. D. Shapiro, Medical, '17, assistant business manager this year, was made business manager.

CHEMISTS ELECT OFFICERS

Late News.

Thursday, May 11—"Industries in the east of the country are liable to foreign attack," said Dean Charles Edward Munroe, at the meeting of the Chemical Society held in the Medical Building last night. He urged that the industries of the country be developed, but that they should not be concentrated on the eastern coast.

The following officers were elected for the next school year: Paul Cathcart, president; P. H. Brattain, vice-president; F. Fogel, secretary; Carl Snyder, treasurer; R. A. Heindl, press agent; Miss T. Karger, R. Schmidt, and W. Brown, members of the executive committee.

Baxter and Hodgkins are Coast Artillery Lieutenants

Non-Coms. Also Appointed; Plans for Camp Beginning July 12; Visited Fort Washington Sunday

While their relative rank has not been determined, Gen. Harvey has informed Chester C. Baxter, Law, '16, and Howard W. Hodgkins, Engineering, '13, Law, '16, that as a result of the recent examinations they will be commissioned lieutenants of the coast artillery company.

Captain Burns has also announced the following non-commissioned officers: Acting First Sergeant Newell B. Crain, Acting Quartermaster Sergeant James Pierce, Sergeants Allan B. Campfield, James A. Ryan, Harold N. Marsh, and Alvin McC. Brown, and Corporals Clarence S. Shields, Benjamin C. Cruickshanks, and Paul J. Hunt. There are still four vacancies among the corporals, and these will be filled, on going to camp, to the men making the best records between now and then.

It is expected that camp will be held at Fort Howard, outside of Baltimore, for a period of three weeks from July 12. The men will receive Government pay and all expenses.

Arrangements will be made so that men taking summer school work will be able to get to camp Friday night of each week and stay until Monday, getting pay and leave for that time.

Another trip to Fort Washington was taken Sunday, several men going down Saturday night, and the usual gun drills were gone through. Another trip is planned over May 30. On this last trip Alvin McC. Brown, Allan B. Campfield, John J. Reinhardt, and Maurice B. Bradley qualified as first-class gunners.

Public Doctorate Disputation To Be Held Monday

Six Candidates to Defend Theses for Degree of Doctor of Philosophy

Six candidates for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy have been approved by the Faculty of Graduate Studies and will defend their theses at the public doctorate disputation to be held in the A. & S. Building on Monday at 10 o'clock. They are Gertrude Richardson Bingham, Horace Hatch Custis, Harry Church Oberholser, Mildred Esthere Scheetz, James Robert Scott, and Christian George Storm.

The practice of a public defense of these against all comers is unique in American universities, although old in European institutions. It was established by Dean Charles E. Munroe in 1895, and since then candidates have had to refute all arguments against their works presented.

The play was produced for the joint benefit of the University Hospital and the Dramatic Association. George Arliss, who originated the part of Disraeli, and other prominent theatrical people aided in the rehearsals.

Win Eight Points at M. A. C. and Run a Plucky Race at Penn.

James, Harsch, Alexander, Wingate and Scott Represent University at Field Games

Four men of the track team—James, Harsch, Alexander and Wingate—went out to the M. A. C. track meet last Saturday and won eight points for George Washington University. On April 29 the same team, with Scott as substitute, entered the Penn Relays in Philadelphia and put up a game fight although outclassed.

In the M. A. C. games, Wingate tied Bayne, M. A. C., for the first place in the high jump, making 5 feet 5 inches. In the one-mile intercollegiate run, Alexander finished a close second, while James came in third in the 220-yard dash. Harsch placed in the second heat of the 100-yard dash.

In the Penn Relays the team ran a plucky race against Lehigh, Lafayette, Rutgers, Bucknell, Colgate, and Worcester Polytechnic. Harsch, "lead off" man, hung onto the bunch well, but we were finally beaten. The showing this year will assure us of a fair classification next year.

The team wishes to thank the 70 students who contributed 25 cents each to send them to the Penn Relays, and to acknowledge larger contributions from Prof. Schreiber and D. B. Gish, well-known coach. They also wish to thank the Sigma Phi Epsilon chapter at Penn. for supper at its house.

After the M. A. C. meet Raymond Harsch was elected captain for next year, and Wm. S. James, who has organized the team this year, was recommended to the faculty committee as manager.

IN THE MAIL BAG

Communications to The Hatchet "Mail Bag" must be written on one side of the paper, must not exceed 300 words in length, and must be addressed to the editors. They must also be signed with the name and address of the sender. Only letters from people concerned with G. W. U. will be published. Publication of letters in this column does not mean the indorsement by The Hatchet of the opinions of the writer. "The Mail Bag" is an open forum, where Hatchettes can argue questions of University interest.

"RAPS" CLASS PRESIDENTS' ASSOCIATION.
To the Editors of The Hatchet:

Since the year 1911-12 the Association of Class Presidents has given an example of how to do nothing, so that on that basis possibly, one might say that their action in disbanding was not entirely ill advised. On the other hand in the year mentioned above and many years prior thereto the Association was active and important.

At this time, when another of the perennial series of experiments in the government of student activities is merely in its inception, would appear to me to be no time for the one really representative body in the University to think its responsibilities and abolish itself. The Student Council idea "listens well" but it is not new and has failed before. I sincerely hope that it will be an unqualified success, but the Class Presidents' Association could have been active until it was well under way and could have been of material assistance in organizing it.

The Association before bowing itself into oblivion gave another clear evidence of its lack of appreciation of its responsibilities in its election of Senior Marshals. The two gentlemen who were elected Marshal and "First Assistant" have clearly no right even to consideration for election, although they are no doubt "honorable men" and as The Hatchet has stated "popular among their classmates" and "prominent in class activities."

The idea of having a Senior Marshal and two Assistant Marshals, (not a first and second assistant) originated with President Stockton in an address which I heard him make in the fall of 1912 when the Class Presidents organized for the year. It was his idea and was so understood, that these honors should be the highest honor that could be bestowed by the student-body on a student and should go to those seniors who had been most active in the interests of the University and had done the most for the school.

The second year that there was a Marshal, the election went to a man whose name was not known outside his class. Last year that same school by a forced election which was afterward repudiated brought in some unknown names. The final election of last year gave the honors to men entirely qualified in every way. This year again unknowns from the same schools receive the first two honors while men such as Terry and Shaver, to mention only two names, who have given much of their time and energy for the honor of the University are passed by unnoticed.

It is to be sincerely hoped that whatever body is given, next year, the privilege of electing the Senior Marshals will have a higher and clearer conception of its duty and responsibility.

Earle Wilfley, who once played Shakespearean roles under Booth, emphasized the humanity of Shakespeare's character. Readings from plays were given by Rev. George Buckler and Mrs. Buckler, Rev. Wilfley, R. D. Shepherd, Mrs. Mary Randolph Dickens, and Maurice Jarvis.

The National Quartet, made up of Mrs. Elizabeth S. Maxwell, Miss Lillian Chenoweth, William E. Braithwaite, and Joseph K. Schofield sang Shakespearean songs. Miss Ethel Garret Johnson was accompanist.

REGRET GEN. STERNBERG'S
DEATH

Resolutions regretting the death of Surgeon General George M. Sternberg, U. S. A., on Nov. 3, 1915, were passed by the Faculty of Graduate Studies last Saturday. Gen. Sternberg was a member of the faculty for nearly ten years, occupying the chair of Professor of Preventive Medicine, which department was created by him.

"Trained in the field, experienced in research, skilled as an author, he was a model guide and adviser to properly equipped students, who regarded him with respect and admiration and were greatly stimulated in their investigations with him and through his criticism of their methods of work," state the resolutions.

The Misses Davis entertained a theater party at "Dear Dorothy."

John Harrison Stokes, jr., formerly in Columbian College, has been appointed to West Point as the result of a competitive examination conducted by the District Commissioners.

The catalogue edition of the University Bulletin is now off the press. It is a valuable publication, for besides the announcements of regular and summer school courses, it contains the names and addresses of all students and faculty.

L. Sales recently lectured on "The Origin and Development of the American Trotting Horse" at the Veterinary College.

J. B. Muro, '16, has been appointed deputy State veterinarian in New Hampshire.

Dr. F. H. K. Reynolds, '14, visited the Veterinary College recently.

The Horse Show interested many Vets.

The new lounging room in the basement of 207 G Street has met with the universal approval of the boys. All have agreed that it is a great deal better than the old quarters that have just been vacated.

The Law School, beginning with next September, will require one year of academic college work for entrance. This is another evidence of the Law School's insistence on only the highest grade of work.

Edward Wiest, Teachers College, '12, is instructor in economics at the University of Vermont. In June, 1915, Mr. Wiest was granted the degree of Ph. D. by Columbia University, having completed a scholarly thesis on "The But-ter Industry in the United States."

Professors Shepherd Ivory Franz and William Ruediger have been designated as delegates to represent the American Psychological Association at the Fifth Annual Assemblage of the League to Enforce Peace which is to meet in Washington May 26 and 27.

That the college students and business men in the Government who attend the summer military instruction camps run by the War Department be given leave and play when in attendance, the same privileges accorded members of the National Guard, has been suggested in a letter to President Stockton by George J. Burton, Law, '18.

George Sarton, lecturer in our School of Graduate Studies this year, and Belgian scholar, has been appointed lecturer at Harvard University.

The Grand Copt looked down upon and showed his pleasure and approval at the ceremonial held by the Alchemists Monday evening, at which time the following men were honored with the Neophyte degree: Thawley, Shinnick, and Lewis.

Prof. McNemar Makes Athletic Financial Statement

Present Deficit is $103, Due to Season Tickets Not Paid For; "Must Pay This Sum," Says Prof. McNemar; Compares Statements of Last Two Years.

Prof. Leslie Cleveland McNemar, director of athletics this year, made the following statement Tuesday:

The summary of the receipts and expenditures of the Athletic Association for the years 1914-15 and 1915-16 as given below brings out the comparison in the form that is entirely favorable to the management of our athletic finances during the past year. Despite the fact that the general expenses for 1915-16 were less than those of the preceding year, the balance in favor of the Association is not so great because of the failure of the track meet to produce the amount of revenue expected. The gate receipts of last year's meet were $655, while the gate receipts this year were only $304. This difference I am sure was due to the poor competition which had been arranged in the meet held at Convention Hall just two weeks prior to our own. I further call attention to the fact that the athletic play of last year netted $55 for the association which is not wholly offset by the sum received from the girls' benefit. For several unavoidable reasons basket ball was more expensive than last year. But this was fully warranted by the additional sale of season tickets. If the sum now outstanding for season tickets is paid there will be a balance to the association of more than $60. At the present time there is an actual deficit of more than $100, which has been assumed by me. This sum must be paid. I call the attention of those who have not paid their dues to the provision of the rules governing the creation of the faculty committee on student activities which authorized the President of the University to withhold credits and other University recognition from those who have failed to meet their financial obligations toward any student undertaking.

I wish to thank those who have so ably assisted me in managing the affairs of the association.

The above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

Director of Athletics.

SENIOR PLAY

Difficulty in getting a cast has endangered the annual senior play. Thursday evening, June 8, and the J. Ormond Wilson Normal School have been selected as the time and place, and L. H. Van Kirk, '16, has written a snappy local four-act play for the occasion. One or two more actors are needed and the production will be given. M. A. Ostrow is director.
